Conference Appointments Come , With Surprise to the Citizens.

GOOD SHOWING FOR Y. M. C. A.

South Atlantic Cigar Co. Commences Work-Anniversary of the Junior Order.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PETERSBURG, VA., November 22.—The transfer by the Virginia Conference of Rev. George E. Booker, former pastor of High Street Methodist Episcopal Church, to another field, is a great surprise to the community, though, hardly more so than the change at Wesley M. E. Church, where Rev. Erank R. Wells succeeds Rev. J. A. Thomas:

Rev. William Asbury Christian comes from Berkley to take charge of the High orreet Church.

Rev. Frank R. Wells, the new paster of Wesley Church, arrived to-day. He is from Dinwiddle county, and has frequently preached in Petersburg.

The Prosbyterian congregations of Petersburg will hold a union service at Tabb Street Church Thanksgiving Day, when a collection will be taken for the benefit of the Assembly Home at Fredericksburg, Va.

Y. M. C. A. PROGRESS.

The report of the general secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association of Petersburg shows to the board of directors most prosperous conditions in that rectors most prosperous conditions in that organization.

The association has more men enrolled in Bible study than any other association in the State, and conducts four Bible classes, one of which, the Working Boys' Band, is taught by Mr. W. R. Walker, of Richimond. The athletic department is actively progressing with a fine gymnasium and an increasing attendance. The State convention of the Y. M. C. A. meets with this association from the 23d to the 28th.

28th.

The South Atlantic Cigar Company, an independent corporation recently organized by local husiness men, has started work at its factory in the Vest End. Mr. C. A. Jordan, formerly with the American Cigar Company here, is president and general manager of the new company.

general manager of the new company.

JUNIOR ORDER CELEBRATION.
The twenty-fifth anniversary of Virginia Council, No. 3, Junior Order United American Mechanics, will be celebrated at Library Hall Thanksgiving evening. An attractive programme has been arranged, including an address by Captain Charles. Bland, of Portsmouth.

Petersburg Lodge of Elika will hold their annual memorial service as the Academy.

Petersburg Lodge of Elks will hold their annual memorial service at the Academy of Music the first Sunday in December. It is understood that Congressman C. A. Swanson will be the orator.

Messra David Dunlop and F. K. Clements left this morning on an automobile trip to Washington, D. C. Mr. Dunlop's machine is quite fast, and he planned to reach Washington to-night.

Hanover Decision.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
HANOVER COURTHOUSE; VA., Nov.
22.—In the case in the Circuit Court here of the Crump West Coal Company, of Richmond, against Robert M. Berkley and others, the court held that Mrs. Berkley was entitled to the first lien on the promises for the amount paid on the deed and have besides the dower interest and after that the place should be offered for sale. It is thought this decision is equivalent to sustaining the deed. The case was argued by Rosewell Page for Mrs. Berkley, and Benjamin H. West for the Crump West Coal Company.

GAME PROTECTION.

Eastern Shore Association Move to Reform-Conditions.

to Reform-Conditions.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

ONANCOCK, VA., Nov. 22.—The Eastern Store of Virginia Game Protective Association held their annual meeting at Eastwille was ra-elected their officers, Dr. John W. Bowdoin, prosident; Henry E. Byrd, vice-president; L. I., Nottingham, secretary and treasurer. All the old game wardens were reappointed, and another one will be assigned to the newly formed diatrict on Broadwater Bay, north of Hog Island. Money was appropriated to defray the wardens! expenses in proseculting night gunners. Warden E. A. Jeffries's salary was discreased to $60 a month.

Dr. John W. Bowdoin and Mr. Henry E. Byrd were appointed to see the Boards of Supervisors of Accomack and North-aimpion counties to have them to prohibit shipments of game to markets out of the State. The Legislature left it optional with the Board of Supervisors whether to allow these shipments, which they did last year, and will do so. The association claims that it is an encouragement to night gunners who can kill 50 to 100 pair decks in a night's time, and ship to Northern markets and get a handsomo price. It also incites a wholesale slaughter of the game for profit, and is a genuine duwback to the sport.

TOOK JAILER'S KEY.

Prisoner Locks Him in and Escapes-Much Game Shipped.

capes—Much Game Shipped.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) / FLOYD. VA. Nov. 22—Sam Smith, a prisoner who was confined in the county jail here for a misdomeanor, made his cscape Sunday morning. The shoriff's son, who was feeding the prisoners after locking himself in the hall, put the key in his hip pocket. Smith, who was in the hall, slipped the same from his pocket, and watching his opportunity, unlocked the door and waked out, after locking the boy in.

Emmett Howery, who shot and killed his father-in-law, Dave Sowers, has been arrested and is now confined in the county juli.

The hunting is fine here. Partridges, rabbus and pressants are plentiful, and numbers are brought in every day, and large quantities are shipped from the county by the merchants. The cold weather has given away to a warm spell, and the hunting is delightful.

Sheriff Alspaugh received a telegram Monday night from the sheriff at Bakers-ville, Cal., stating that Charles Crutch-field had surrendered there and confessed that he was implicated in the murder here of a railroad man named Smith, and the wife of Henry Goins, colored, in 1889. The double murder was committed at the home of Goins, in the Northern part of this city.

The claim was made, and it was generally believed, that the killing of the woman was accidental, that the ball which struck her was intended for Smith. Young Crutchfield was arrested and tried before a magistrate after the crime, He was acquitted. Later he left the city. In 1891 the grand jury of the Superior Court investigated the case and returned a true bill against Crutchfield for murder, but at that time he could not be found. It is learned that Crutchfield is in bad health. Sheriff Alspaugh sent a telegram this afternoon to Sheriff J. W. Kelly at Hakersfield asking him to write the mental condition and to gate if his confession, is sufficient to convict. If it is proven that the man who surrendered is the right party, and that there is a chance

Fire in Charles City.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

WILLCOX WHARF, VA., Nov. 22.—
The residence of Mr. John R. Waddill, of this county, burned to the ground about $130 q'clock Saturday night. The fire originated in the kitchen, which adjoins the dwelling and had made good progress on that building before it was discovered by Miss Bessie Waddill, who quickly alarmed the others in the family, and they, with the help of many neighbors and friends, succeeded in saving a large portion of the furniture. The house was built in colonial days, and although old, was a large and suystantial one, characteristic of those built so many years ago. There was no insurance, and Mr. Waddill sees will probably amount to aftern hundred golars. Pive generations of the Waddill family have lived in this house.

BUCA-NGHAM COURTHGUSE, VA.,

Nov. 23.—Many deer are being killed now; a party of hunters killed two near "New Store" last week, and a boy named Dolan killed two fawns near "Afton" on Friday, with a single-barrelled gun. The game wardens of each district are anxious to see that those in other districts are compelled to collect the $10 fees, which hunters from outside, the State have to pay, as the average amount paid in the county is divided among all the wardens in the county.

the Harbor.

(By Associated Press.)

PENSACOLA. FLA., November 22.—
Secretary Tatt and his party arrived here at 7:80 o'clock this morning on the Dolphin from New Orleans. They sailed for Panama at noon on the Columbia. The Secretary was met by a committee of Pensacola citizens, representing the Chamber of Commerce. The intention was to give him a view of the harbor and shipping facilities, but his hurried departure prevented this excursion. The Secretary received the committee aboard the Columbia shortly after 10 o'clock. He was welcomed in a brief address by the collector of the port, John T. Stillman, and responded, expressing his regrets at not being abic to view the harbor. J. Ed. O'Brien welcomed the newspaper men accompanying the Secretary.

Secretary Tift was accompanied by Mrs. Taft. With him on the Columbia are Admiral Walker, Senor Obaldia, Panama minister, and Mr. Cromwell. The Dolphin took the remainder of the party. On account of the slow speed of the Dolphin, it is expected five days will be required to reach Colon. Secretary Taft told the committee that he would recommend the appropriation of $22,000 for the construction of a macadamized road to connect the navy yard with the city of Pensacola.
